

9th March 2011POSITIONS WITH ACWADAM

Advanced Center for Water Resources Development and Management (ACWADAM) is a Civil Society Organisation working on groundwater management in different parts of India. ACWADAM's focus is in the area of developing and improving understanding of groundwater resources. It also deals with the demystification of groundwater science and strengthening hydrogeological capacities of institutions working in the water sector in India. ACWADAM is seeking professionals with the following profiles:

1. Scientist (1 post):

Scientist-manager to provide the link between research and project management. Scientific background is mandatory. Post-graduate in Geology/Hydrology, with a minimum of 3-5 years experience in work related to groundwater, watershed management or other related programmes. Publications, teaching experience, research background would be added qualifications. Desirable: Sufficient writing and communication skills, analytical and managerial capabilities and aptitude towards learning new skills. Selected candidate will be required to travel extensively, co-ordinate ACWADAM's Programmes in different parts of India and work in close co-ordination with the Executive Director. Salary commensurate with experience and qualifications.

2. Researcher (2 posts):

Enthusiastic researchers, with a will to learn, travel and provide inputs to ACWADAM's programmes in different regions of India. Post-graduates, with 1-2 years minimum experience in work dealing with watershed management, exploration geology, mining, environmental management etc. Geologists will be preferred. Writing and presentation skills desired. Selected candidates will be required to travel extensively to different locations in India.

3. Accountant (1 post):

BCom, MCom, with 3-5 years experience in accounting with knowledge upto finalisation. Knowledge of Tally-ERP 9.0 will be an added advantage.

Applications (along with curriculum vitae) for the above mentioned posts to be sent by e-mail at acwadam@gmail.com

All positions are based at PUNE.