

Sanitation Hackathon, Pune, November 30-December 2, 2012

The Water and Sanitation Program of the World Bank, Indian Institute for Human Settlements (IIHS) and Infosys invite you to the Sanitation Hackathon at Pune from November 29- December 2nd, 2012.

India will be among many countries to host the global Sanitation Hackathon, an intensive marathon of brainstorming and programming, where software developers and designers collaborate to create innovative technological solutions to sanitation challenges. For more information log onto www.sanitationhackathon.org or “Like” our FaceBook page www.facebook.com/sanitationhackathonindia.

In India, more than 10 partners/sponsors have collaborated with the event including The Government of India (DIT, MoUD, MoDWS), Ecosan Service Foundation, Onmobile, Medhaj Group, Glocal Healthcare, NJS Consultants, Shelter Associates, The Hatch etc.

The schedule is as follows:

November 30, (Friday) - The Sanitation Hackathon will be inaugurated at Holiday Inn Hotel, Pune at 6:00pm.

December 1-2 (Saturday and Sunday) - The software developers will work or “hack” to develop prototype mobile applications at Infosys – Hinjewadi, Pune.

December 2nd Evening - The event will conclude with a presentation of the prototypes to compete for the top three places at Infosys – Hinjewadi, Pune

Sanitation Hackathon, Pune, November 30-December 2, 2012

If your travel schedule permits please make it convenient to attend or share with colleagues who maybe interested to attend.

For more information please call Barkha Goel at +91 9810492000 or barkha_goel@yahoo.com; Ammu Menon at +91 9910335995 or amenon@worldbank.org; Vivek Raman at +91 9818444740 or vraman1@worldbank.org

We look forward to your active support and participation.

